

2022

ONLINE AND OFFLINE

TA101

The official INTRODUCTION to TRANSACTIONAL ANALYSIS

Initial digital application form

The TA101 is now online and we have found ways of making it serious fun, and being online in a way that prevents a zombie. The TA101 provides an overview of TA concepts, examples of application and opportunities and is the entry qualification for further training (online and when possible in person in Oxford). The Foundation Programme begins in January every year.

Who is this TA101 programme for?

Anyone. People find it provides both personal learning and direct tools for their work; for example: counsellors, managers, parents, and teachers. It stands alone – or can lead to further training in TA in Oxford or elsewhere internationally, continuing if wished, to qualifications in organisation, education or counselling applications of TA with TAworks or in psychotherapy elsewhere.

Who is the trainer?

Rosemary Napper is certified in counselling, organisational and educational applications in transactional analysis (BACP accredited). She is also a teaching and supervising transactional analyst (TSTA) in these fields of application and also TA-based coaching programmes; well-qualified as a trainer, and author of several articles and books including co-author of TACTICS – a practical manual about TA informing the process of learning.

INTRODUCTION to TRANSACTIONAL ANALYSIS

- Bespoke TA101 over 3 days: for specific organisation or group - can be tailored to a theme (e.g. management; leadership training; parenting; coaching; mental health)
- Written version of the TA101 - involves purchasing/reading core text, answering written questions for marking, plus tutorial.

Final date for 2021:

- 4 - 5 December with 2 hours on 3rd from 5-7 - online

New dates for 2022:

- 4 - 5 February with 2 hours on 3rd from 5-7
- 21 - 22 May in person in Oxford
- 14 - 15 October with 2 hours on 13th from 5-7

Timings: The full days are 09.30-17.30 with an hour break.
Rosemary Napper is the key trainer for the dates above.

Fees

Individuals/Charities/Not-for-profit £250
Statutory sector £300, Business sector £350

Cheques payable to TAworks Ltd. (TAworks is not VAT regd)

Bank transfer please pay TAworks Ltd
Metro Account number: 32886183 Sort code: 23-05-80
and email rosemary.napper@TAmatters.com with your account name, amount and the date payment was made.

Apply

This official programme (known as the TA101) covers a globally recognised syllabus providing you with an overview of conceptual maps to navigate your sense of self, your relationships with others, and your contexts,

It can stand alone or lead on to qualifications organisational, educational or counselling applications of TA with TAworks or elsewhere.

To apply for any of the above: email to check for availability of places and email this completed initial digital application form as soon as possible before the event to: rosemary.napper@TAmatters.com

www.TAworks.co

www.TAworks.co.uk

Apply

Complete this form and email it to:
rosemary.napper@tamatters.com

Name wishes to be called by:

Full name:

Address:

Work role:

Employer:

Phone (day):  (evening):

Email:

I agree for my details to be used on the TAworks database for notification of further TA learning opportunities.

Three things I intend to get out of this training

Request for further information

- TACTICS - the book about adult learning and TA
- TA Coaching, Counselling and Psychotherapy in the Oxford area
- Foundation Programme begins each February
- One-off TA-based workshops around specific topics